Displacement

This informal settlement is situated on Paghmani Street, where residents rent houses from landlords in the Qala-e Wahid neighbourhood. However, landlords do not receive any rent from residents. The population is equally divided between Tajik and Pashtun communities. All of the residents are IDPs from Parwan, Kunduz and Nangarhar provinces.

The settlement was first established in 2013 when 70 households travelled from Charikar, Parwan. In 2015, 30 more households joined the settlement from Kunduz. A final 10 households from Nangarhar later entered the settlement in 2016.

Nearly all residents reportedly plan to stay within the Qala-e Wahid Pul-e Camp 2 settlement as they feel they have no alternative shelter options.
