

Bor - IDP Intentions Assessment

Bor South County, Jonglei State, South Sudan

South Sudan Displacement Crisis

November 2015

Methodology

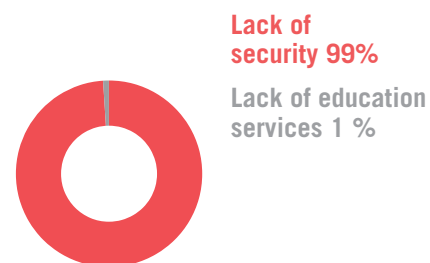

These findings are based on primary data collected by REACH, between 30th October and 5th November 2015.

REACH staff interviewed IDPs in Bor to understand where they have come from, where they would go if they were able to leave, and what push and pull factors inform their decisions.

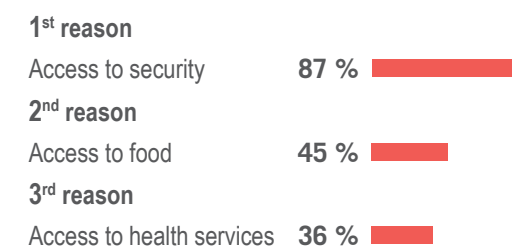

A random sample of 284 households were interviewed, providing a representative sample of the roughly 1,080 dwelling units with a confidence of 95% and a margin of error of 5% at site level.

Causes of Displacement

Primary reported reasons for leaving pre-crisis homes

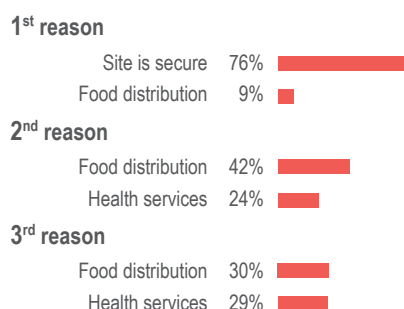

Primary reasons for selecting current displacement site

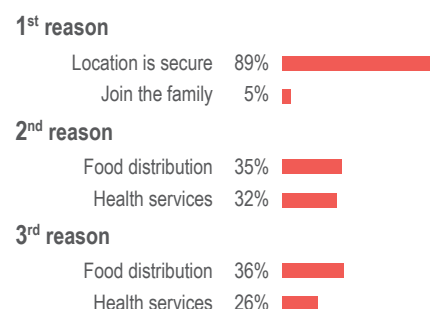

Decision making factors

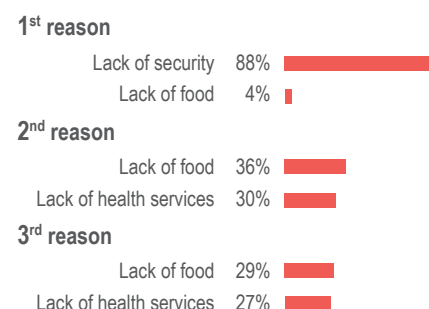

Top three factors for still living in current displacement site

Top three factors in preferred first return location that would enable return

Top three factors in preferred first return location that would prevent return

Peace agreement

52% IDPs reported being aware of the peace agreement signed between the SPLA and the SPLA-IO

66% IDPs aware of the peace agreement said it would have an influence on their decision to leave the PoC

70% IDPs influenced by the peace agreement said that it is a strong incentive to move out of the PoC

Peace factors

Top reported activities to contribute to peace in preferred first return location

	1 st	2 nd	3 rd
Official ceremony	64%	15%	7%
Peace agreement	23%	33%	27%
Traditional ceremony	7%	22%	21%
In-kind exchange	3%	16%	18%
Monetary exchange	1%	13%	7%
Inter-tribe marriages	1%	1%	16%

Meaning of security

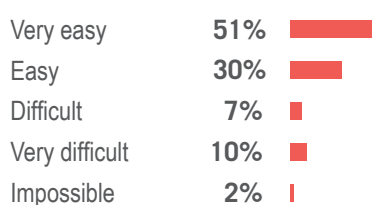

89% IDPs who mentioned security as a preventative factor define security as "The absence of fighting" in their preferred first return location

Peaceful environment

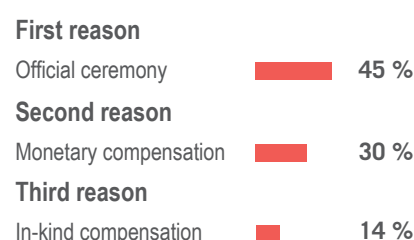

61% IDPs said that the perception of peaceful environment in their preferred first return location would be a strong incentive to move out of the PoC

Social cohesion

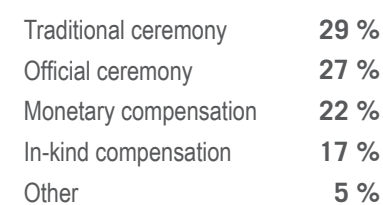

Perceived ease of coexistence with host community in first selected return location

Three main factors that will allow IDPs to live peacefully with those who harmed them

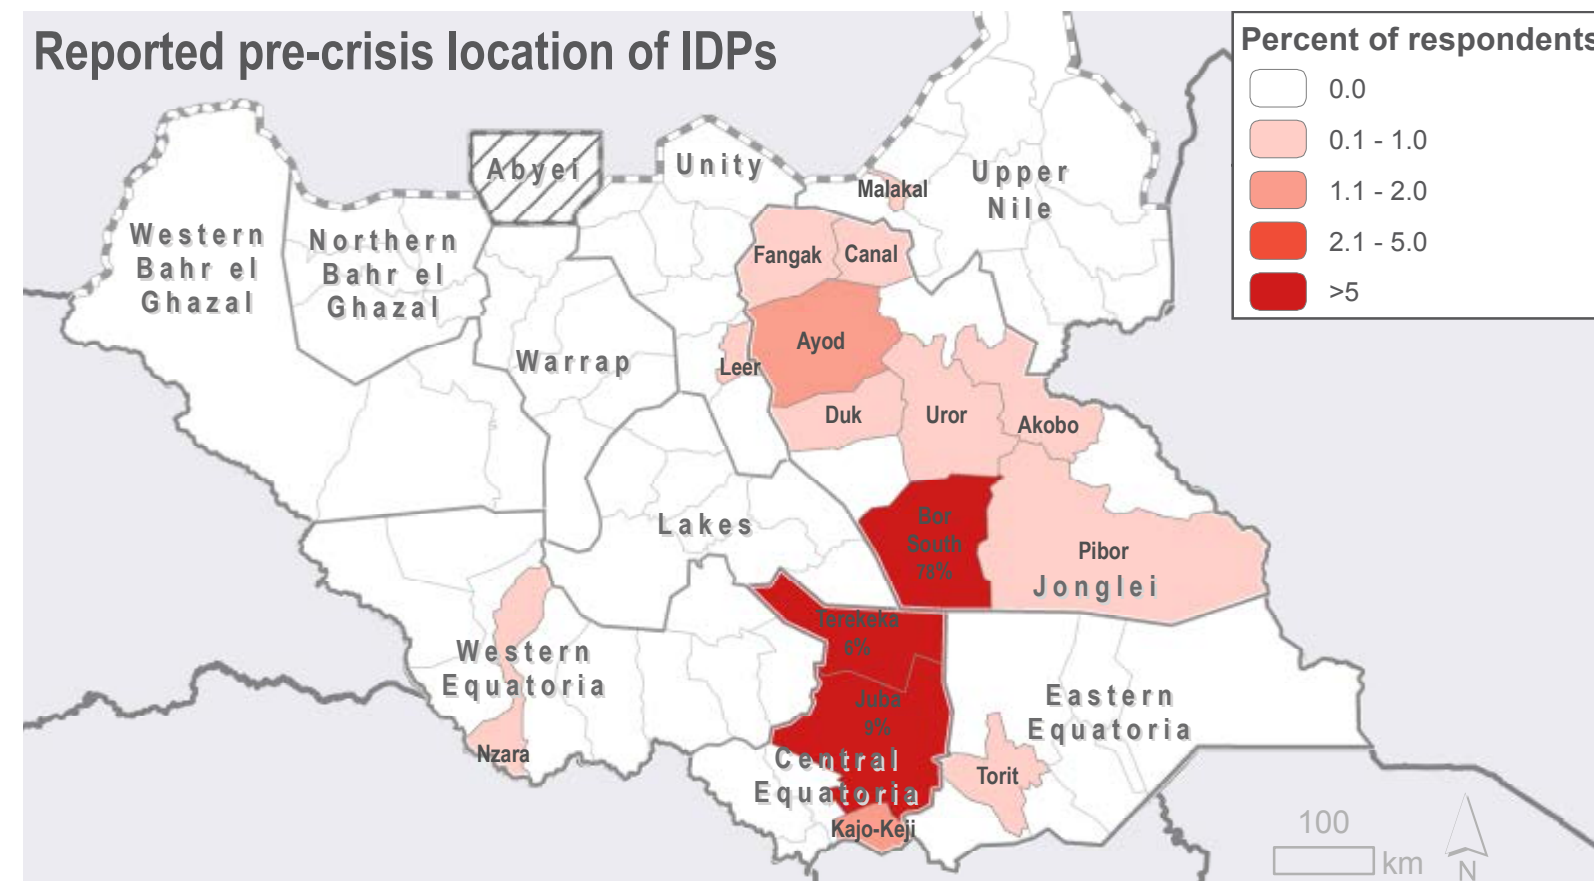

Reported activities that would enable IDPs to live peacefully with other communities

IDP pre-displacement locations and areas of desired return

31.60 E, 6.18 N

Reported pre-crisis location of IDPs

Reported preferred first return locations

