

CENTRAL AFRICAN REPUBLIC - Flood Susceptibility and Risk

Ombella MPoko Prefecture

Intended for humanitarian use
Production date : June 2020

Susceptibility

The map shows relative flood susceptibility across the surface of Central African Republic based on physical land features and rainfall patterns

Risk

Risk was calculated using measurements of flood hazard (susceptibility), exposure, and vulnerability. Hazard is an average of the flood susceptibility score in populated areas. Exposure is measured as the proportion of people living in high/very high flood susceptibility areas. Vulnerability is a composite measure of housing structure fragility, food insecurity, low financial resilience, IDPs, youth, unaccompanied youth, elderly, and disabled persons.
