General Objective	The general objective of the assessment is to provide information on the context and conditions for durable solutions in areas experiencing recent returns and/or re-displacement, where existing data indicates that returns may be unsustainable.
Specific Objective(s)	> Provide an understanding the effects of recent movement trends (i.e. returns, displacement, and secondary displacement) across different community displacement categories/groups in targeted areas, in relation to the pre-crisis context. > Assess perceived intentions to move among all relevant community displacement categories/groups within the areas to identify potential risk of further instability, > Assess how conditions in areas affected by recent or prospective returns or (re)displacement may impact the “sustainability of durable solutions”⁵. > Identify any consequent shift in local social dynamics and power structures in terms of stakeholders and affected community displacement categories/groups following the recent movements. > Explore conditions in the area in terms of community needs and interrelations and the viability of safe and dignified durable solutions, drawing from the IASC durable solutions framework related to the following: > Community primary needs and access to services > Social cohesion and community tensions > Governance and security
Research Questions	1. What is the current demographic profile of the area in terms of displacement status (i.e. returns, displacement, and secondary displacement, remainees, and host communities); and what recent movements (last 6 months) influenced the demographic profile of the area in terms of displacement status? What factors have enabled those movements? 2. What are the movement intentions of different population groups in the longer term (six months)? What factors have affected these intentions? 3. What are the perceptions of different population groups concerning the impact of: a) recent changes to the demographic profile of the area in terms of displacement status in the last six months? b) attempted/failed returns in the last six months? c) prospective returns in the next six months? 4. What are the local social dynamics, power structures and key stakeholders influencing governance and decision-making? What are the stakeholders influencing IDPs and returnees' affairs in the area? 5. What are the perceptions of different populations – per displacement status - about conditions in the area regarding conduciveness to durable solutions⁶, and drivers for their instability and

⁵ Sustainability of durable solutions, specifically voluntary return, reintegration or local integration, means that conditions in the arriving areas (areas of origin for returnees or areas of displacement for internally displaced persons (IDPs)) ensure that individuals enjoy socio-economic stability and do not displace again. Those conditions will include: sense of safety and security, dignified access to basic and public assistance, access to livelihood and documentation, and reduced risks of aid dependency.

	unsustainability, in the last 6 months?
Geographic Coverage	Geographic coverage is nationwide, focusing on areas that have been highlighted as 'hotspots' in which the severity of conditions around indicators for durable solutions has been identified as high⁷ (as per IOM data reported in IOM Displacement Tracking Matrix (DTM)) that may threaten viability of return or (re)integration (through the IOM DTM Return Index), or where anecdotal reports or other data indicate that returns or recent (re)displacement may not be sustainable and/or may present social cohesion risks. Areas reported to have recent influx of returns and/or IDPs that have secondarily displaced will be prioritized. Areas will be selected for assessment based on triangulated data from the following sources: REACH MCNA durable solutions indicators highlighting difficult areas of return, as well as other data sources from the humanitarian community including IOM DTM Returns Index, and the National Protection Cluster's emergency tracking of camp departures. The criteria identified for the prioritization of the target areas are: - Sub-districts where social cohesion severity is high; and/or - District of origin for IDPs in camps at risk of closure. - In addition, to reports from IOM, Returns Working Group (RWG) and relevant coordination platforms and forums in Iraq about prospective movement from/to those sub-districts. Once a sub-district is identified to be included in the area-coverage for ReDS, it will be selected based on consultations with the RWG, and aligned with the areas of interest for the Durable Solutions Technical Working Group's (DSTWG) Area-Based Coordination Groups (ABCs).
Secondary data sources	• Population data (e.g. IOM DTM datasets for IDPs and returnees); • Data and reports from previous returns and displacement assessments (e.g. Access to durable solutions among IDPs in Iraq: Four years of displacement by IOM Iraq); • General background and context research on areas being targeted for assessment; • Geo-spatial data (e.g. UNOSAT satellite imagery); • Tools and Lessons Learned from previous projects; and, • Relevant REACH Initiatives assessments (e.g. REACH in-camp IDP Areas of Origin Intentions Survey Dataset, April 2021; REACH Multi-Cluster Needs Assessment (MCNA) – Iraq, 2021; Informal Sites Profile and Intentions Survey, November and December 2020; and, the Area-Based Assessments (ABAs) done in 2021 in areas covered by ReDS).

2. Rationale

2.1. Rationale

In 2020, the number of IDPs returning to their area of origin (AoO) or being re-displaced increased, coupled with persisting challenges in relation to social cohesion, lack of services, infrastructure and - in some cases - insecurity in AoO.¹³ Increased returns were driven in part by the ongoing closure and consolidation of IDP camps. Between October 2020 and mid-January 2021, 14 formal IDP camps closed or were reclassified into informal sites by the Government of Iraq (GoI), in addition two informal sites – Al-Ishaqi and Al-Shams – were also closed.¹⁴ Ongoing planning continues surrounding the future of the remaining camps across Iraq. A total of 4.86 million returnees have been recorded in Iraq,¹⁵ with 1.2 million IDPs still in displacement.¹⁶

¹¹ This is an estimate of the total number of KIs (predominantly community leaders) per assessment area.

¹² The number of maps will depend on the reported movements in and out the six assessed sub-district with a minimum of one map per factsheet and a maximum of four.

¹³ DTM, Return Index Reports, 2020

¹⁴ OCHA, Iraq Humanitarian Needs Overview, February 2021

¹⁵ DTM, DTM Report, March-April 2021

¹⁶ DTM, IDP Master List Dataset, April 2021

In light of these dynamics, the need to better understand the factors influencing the sustainability of returns, conditions for the (re)integration of IDPs and returnees, and the impact of their presence on access to services and social cohesion has been identified in the context of humanitarian and development planning. In response, since June 2020, REACH assessed 10 sub-districts of return in Ninewa Governorate (Markaz Al-Baaj, Markaz Mosul, Al-Qairawan, and Markaz Sinjar sub-districts), Salah Al-Din Governorate (Markaz Tooz Khurmato and Yathreb sub-districts), Diyala Governorate (Markaz Al-Muqdadiah Sub-district), Kirkuk Governorate (Markaz Daquq Sub-district) and Al-Anbar Governorate (Al-Rummaneh and Markaz Al-Garma sub-districts) in coordination with the RWG.

The need to cover information gaps still being considered a priority as reported in the different Area-Based Coordination groups (ABCs) established across Iraq under the Durable Solutions Technical Working Group (DSTWG). To address this gap, REACH will continue conducting rapid assessments to profile priority sub-districts of return and/or secondary displacement where there was identified a risk to the sustainable (re)integration of populations, and therefore durable solutions. The sub-districts will be identified in coordination with the RWG, and aligned with the ABCs areas of interest classified as 'hotspots' where conditions may threaten the viability and sustainability of return or (re)integration.

The profiles – called Return and Durable Solutions profiles (ReDS) – aimed to provide evidence base to support humanitarian and development actors to promote durable solutions for returnees and IDPs in situations of protracted displacement on multiple levels, including:

- 1) Development of strategic dialogue, policy development, and resource mobilization efforts,
- 2) Development of localized interventions, and
- 3) Advocacy with government actors around camp closures, consolidation, premature returns, and conditions in areas of origin to allow sustainable returns.

As indicated by the information need within the context, six factsheets will be released before 31 December 2021. Key findings for each location will be compiled in a PowerPoint presentation, in addition to the factsheet, to be disseminated through relevant coordination platforms in order to inform prioritization and effectiveness of ongoing and future programming, such as through the RWG, the Durable Solutions Technical Working Group's (DSTWG) Area-Based Coordination Groups (ABCs), and relevant general coordination meeting (GCM). As relevant, findings can also be presented in the non-coordination group meetings for learning and informing response, including through thematic groups (such as the Emergency Livelihoods Cluster and/or national Peace and Reconciliation Working Group) and other sub-national coordination mechanisms relevant in the assessed locations. In addition, a dissemination letter will be share via email through the RWG, and by uploading the outputs in Relief Web and REACH Resource Centre. As indicated by the information need within the context, six factsheets will be released before 31 December 2021.

3. Methodology

3.1. Methodology overview

The assessment will employ a qualitative and quantitative area-based approach that combines the analysis of secondary data with qualitative primary data collection in the form of semi-structured key informant interviews (KIIs), capturing the perspectives of affected populations – in terms of displacement status – within the locale, to allow for a holistic understanding of the needs of the wider community, and to ensure a conflict sensitive approach in terms of impact on levels of social cohesion and community interrelations. In the way to ensure capturing the overall context in the sub-districts related to the scope of the research, interviews will be conducted with community leaders (i.e. mukhtars, tribal or religious leaders, etc.) in addition to adults from different displacement groups affected by the 2014 crisis including remainees (residents that did not leave following the 2014 crisis); former IDPs who have returned to the area (returned more than 3 months prior to the start of data collection); recent returnees (returned within the 3 months prior to data collection); IDPs residing in the area (from a different AoO); and IDPs originally from the area who remain in displacement (whether recently displaced or in protracted displacement). It is expected to interview between 50 and 60 key informants (KIs) per area depending on the population size and availability of KIs in the specific location. KIs will be purposely sampled, identified by the RWG using existing networks as well as the networks of other NGOs working in the assessed areas. Snowballing can be considered by REACH in case the target could not be achieved for any specific reason.

KI interviews will be conducted on KoBo using a multi-sectoral questionnaire in English, translated by Field Officers into Arabic; the first round of interviews will start (tentatively) in the last week of June 2021. Semi-structured interviews will be comprised of closed and open-ended questions to identify the demographic profile and recent movement trends in the area surveyed, and community perceptions about the context concerning drivers to conflict and instability. Data collection will be collected remotely over the phone as to (i) allow for more rapid data collection, and consequent sharing of information with partners to inform response in a timely way and (ii) adapt to any restrictions imposed by local authorities in response to the COVID-19 pandemic taking into considerations public health risks and guided by IMPACT Standards of Operations for Data Collection during COVID-19.

Once the data collection process is completed, the analysis will be carried out over Excel by identified themes including: recent and expected movements, community primary needs and access to humanitarian aid, access to housing and housing rehabilitation, access to basic public services, access to livelihoods, governance and safety and security, community inter-relations, and land contamination. Commonalities and differences in across KI groups – including particularly displacement status - will also feed directly in to the production of a factsheet for each assessed location.

In addition, consultations with the IOM contextual experts will be ensured by REACH ReDS AO in coordination with the RWG to discuss relevant information that may be useful for findings interpretation and provide a better understanding about how the contextual characteristics of the area of assessment may/may not affect the sustainability of durable solutions for returnees and IDPs. Considering their relevancy and areas of expertise, further IOM and RWG involvement will take place for both factsheet design and validation of findings.

3.2. Population of interest

Each assessment will focus on a specific sub-district of interest which has seen different levels of return and/or re-displacements, focusing on sub-districts that have been highlighted as ‘hotspots’ in terms of poor indications of social cohesion or might represent risk for social cohesion; that may threaten viability of return or (re)integration; or where anecdotal reports or other data indicate that returns or recent displacement may not be sustainable (more details will be presented in the section below related to areas to be assessed).

The population of interest will cover all populations in the selected area, and IDPs displaced from the area (identifying the location as their AoO). To ensure that the needs and perceptions of the entire community are captured, this process aims to include community leaders (i.e. mukhtars, tribal or religious leaders, etc.) and SMEs, in addition to interviews with adults representing remainees, existing returnees (i.e. returned prior to recent movement trends), new returnees, remainees, and out-of-camp IDPs (if relevant to the assessed location).

3.3. Secondary data review

A secondary data review (SDR) will be conducted by REACH in order to support the implementation of primary data collection, analysis, and operationalization of findings. Sources will include:

- Population data (e.g. IOM DTM datasets for IDPs and returnees)
- Data and reports from previous returns and displacement assessments (e.g. Access to durable solutions among IDPs in Iraq: Four years of displacement by IOM Iraq)
- General background and context research on areas being targeted for assessment
- Geo-spatial data (e.g. UNOSAT satellite imagery)
- Tools and Lessons Learned from previous projects
- Relevant REACH Initiatives assessments (e.g. REACH in-camp IDP Areas of Origin Intentions Survey Dataset, April 2021; REACH Multi-Cluster Needs Assessment \(MCNA\) – Iraq, 2021; Informal Sites Profile and Intentions

Survey, November and December 2020; and, the Area-based Assessments done in 2021 in areas covered by ReDS)

3.4. Primary Data Collection

3.4.1. Selection of areas to be assessed

The assessment will focus on specific areas across the country that have been highlighted as ‘hotspots’ in which the severity of conditions around indicators for durable solutions has been identified as high¹⁷ (as per IOM data reported in IOM Displacement Tracking Matrix \(DTM\)) that may threaten viability of return or (re)integration (through the IOM DTM Return Index), or where anecdotal reports or other data indicate that returns or recent (re)displacement may not be sustainable and/or may present social cohesion risks. Areas reported to have recent influx of returns and/or IDPs that have secondarily displaced will be prioritized.

Areas will be selected for assessment based on triangulated data from the following sources: REACH MCNA durable solutions indicators highlighting difficult areas of return, as well as other data sources from the humanitarian community including IOM DTM Returns Index, and the National Protection Cluster’s emergency tracking of camp departures.

The criteria identified for the prioritization of the target areas are:

- Sub-districts where social cohesion severity is high; and/or
- District of origin for IDPs in camps at risk of closure.

To facilitate the prioritization process, when two or more areas have the same score accessibility to the area will be considered, in addition to reports from IOM, RWG and relevant coordination platforms and forums in Iraq about prospective movement from/to those sub-districts including other parameters such as changes in access to services and presence of other actors (Refer to Annex 1. “Prioritization of areas of concern for the assessment”, for further information and details). Recommendations from other humanitarian actors and key stakeholders will be considered.

Once a sub-district is identified to be included in the area-coverage for ReDS, it will be selected based on consultations with the RWG, and aligned with the areas of interest for the Durable Solutions Technical Working Group’s (DSTWG) Area-Based Coordination Groups (ABCs).

3.4.2. Sampling

Purposive sampling methods will be employed to identify KIs. For the identification of KIs, REACH will use IOM networks. To avoid interviewees fatigue coordination will be ensured internally throughout REACH projects and with IOM to avoid interviews in areas which were recently assessed. This identification process will take place in areas of displacement - in out-of-camp settings - for IDPs originally from the area of interest displaced elsewhere; and, in the area of interest for IDPs in the community (originally from other areas), returnees, remainees, community leaders and SMEs. Snowballing methods may be considered by REACH enumerators in case of unmet targets due to failing to reach the provided contacts.

Enumerators will collect data from multiple KI profile, which are detailed in Table 1. For each relevant KI profile, the assessment aims to interview a minimum of five respondents (for SMEs and community leaders), which allows the triangulation of data while also allowing the assessment to fulfil its ‘rapid’ component.

KI profiles are defined as:

- Community leaders are mukhtars, tribal or religious leaders, etc.;
- Subject matter experts (SMEs) are individuals with a high level of expertise and knowledge in different or specific topics covered in this assessment (such as NGOs employees/volunteers, ministries employees, etc.);
- Remainees are residents in the community that did not leave following the 2014 crisis;
- Existing returnees are residents in the community that were displaced from the area following the 2014 crisis and have returned more than 3 months prior to data collection;
- Recent returnees are residents in the community that were displaced from the area following the 2014 crisis and have returned within 3 months prior to data collection;

¹⁷ The severity of the conditions in locations of returns is defined as the DTM returns index methodology – DTM, Returns Index Methodology, May 2020

- IDPs (from a different AoO, residing in the community) are individuals from different areas who displaced following the 2014 crisis and reside in the community (if relevant in the assessed location);
- IDP (from the community, residing elsewhere) are internally displaced persons original from the community that remain in displacement elsewhere.

Table 1. KI Profile and sample sizes

KI Breakdown
KI group number	KI description	Target number per area of interest
1.	Community leaders	5-15 ¹⁸
2.	Subject matter experts (SMEs)	5
3.	Remainees	8
4.	Existing returnees	8
5.	Recent returnees	8
6.	IDPs residing in the area (from a different AoO)	8
7.	IDPs originating from the area who remain in displacement	8
Total		50-60

The ultimate distribution of KIs may shift from a location to another depending on the makeup of the community – for example in some locations more existing returnees may be interviewed because there have not been recent movements or not done IDPs in the area. In other areas there were remainee populations following the events of 2014, while the whole population displaced to ‘safer’ areas. The modifications to the sample will be done in coordination with IOM and RWG context experts and upon the characteristics of each sub-district.

3.4.3. Primary Data Collection

A semi-structured and multi-sectoral survey in English, translated into Arabic (bilingual form) to facilitate the data collection by Arabic speaker enumerators, will be used to interview all KI profiles. This tool, uploaded on KoBo, focus on: recent and prospective population movements, including causes and effects; community primary needs and perceptions on access to services including: housing such as type of tenure, rehabilitation and eviction, public services such as education and health, livelihood opportunities, access to basic services such as water, sanitation and electricity, access to humanitarian aids, access to public juridical mechanisms; perceptions of social cohesion and community tensions; and perceptions of governance and security. The tool design is tailored in the way to facilitate asking different questions as relevant for the research per respondent group (i.e. community leaders will be asked about the demographics pre and post 2014 crisis; governance and influence and presence of actors such as security forces in the area; including perceptions of the effects related to departures, returns and re-displacements. While remainees, returnees and IDPs will be mainly asked about community needs, access to public and basic services, feeling of safety and security and drivers/blockers for returns, displacement or re-displacement). Each KI profile will answer questions from different components of the tool taking into consideration the relevancy of the questions related to their displacement status and profile. Some cross-cutting questions will be asked to all KIs (e.i. type of housing does the majority of the households residing in this sub-district, and type of housing arrangement; challenges to access basic public services and livelihoods; etc.). The first round of interviews will start (tentatively) in the last week of June 2021.

¹⁸ This is an estimate based on no more than one KI per neighborhood/ community area/ village, depending on size of targeted area. This assessment does not aim to conduct KIIs with all community leaders in the assessed area, as the time and resources required will diminish the rapidity of the assessment. Instead, the aim is to conduct community leader KIIs across multiple sub-areas, to create a composite understanding of the target area. The exact number of community leader KIIs to be conducted will depend on the size, demographics, and geographic lay-out of the area. This will also be dependent upon whether interviews will be conducted remotely or in person.

Due to the restrictions imposed by local authorities in response to the COVID-19 pandemic, and in line with IMPACT/ACTED duty-of-care policies and IMPACT Standards of Operations for Data Collection during COVID-19, KIs will be conducted remotely by REACH enumerators using REACH phone. This approach will also allow to conduct the interviews in the limited and not extended period of time in line with the rapid nature of the ReDS assessment. The use of personal phones for data collection will not be allowed during the process. The target will be divided between two REACH enumerators to ensure data collection take place smoothing with minimum load and ensuring quality.

During each KI, enumerators will record answers directly in the KoBo form for all questions; in addition, each enumerator will record comprehensive notes using a pre-designed template for more open-ended questions. Following the interviews, a debrief will be held between REACH Field Officer and the enumerators to consolidate the data gathered. Feedback will be shared with REACH ReDS AO in person, or via Skype or email as an alternative, with the Field Officer to discuss identified gaps and flag issues of concern, as well as identified technical issues with the tool. If information requires additional clarification, follow-up calls will be made by REACH enumerators to KIs and ensure feedback to AO using the pre-designed template. Throughout the data collection process, the notes from previous debriefs will be safely kept with enumerators following data protection protocols and will be consulted later in order to help identify contradictions or inconsistencies within the responses, so that these issues can be addressed in follow-up calls where necessary. In addition, the debrief notes will be regularly reviewed to determine when data saturation has been reached.

The contact information of KIs will be shared directly with the involved enumerators, such that they can conduct the interviews remotely. It is proposed sharing the information with the following steps in place to minimize risk linked to data protection policies:

- A limited number of enumerators (2) will be contracted to collect data for the different rounds of the research;
- KI contact details will only be shared with the 4 contracted project staff¹⁹ who, in the case of ReDS, have been working with REACH in previous projects;
- Enumerators and the Field Officer will be trained in the use of the tool, and briefed about data management and data collection principles;
- Only the necessary KIs' contact information will be shared by REACH ReDS AO with REACH Field officer, and each enumerator will be provided with the information required for them to do their job through official work emails;
- KIs' contact information will be sent digitally in a secure format, such as in an encrypted and password protected Excel documents; and,
- KI lists will be deleted after the end of the research cycle for each location, unless KIs have provided explicitly consent to be contacted for future assessments.

Prior to data collection, all enumerators will have received a comprehensive Arabic-language training covering the purpose of the assessment, the tool, and the key information to be captured. The training will be conducted via Skype or in person, facilitated by the REACH ReDS AO, in coordination with field officer. Data collection will take place in five days. Once data collection is finalized, an extra day will be considered to evaluate the process, capture lessons learned and collect feedback from the enumerators.

3.5. Data Processing & Analysis

Once data is collected, on a daily basis, the REACH ReDS AO will proceed with the data cleaning. This process will take place following IMPACT Data Cleaning Minimum Standards and Standards of Operation for Management of Personally Identifiable Data. Data cleaning will be guided by the data cleaning plan (see Section 5) designed to monitor ReDS assessment metadata for uniqueness of KIs, identify incorrect or contradictory information, monitoring of enumerators, logical checks, and follow up on sensitive questions. It will also highlight if any modifications or additions to the tool need to be done to facilitate the data collection and analysis. To track any changes in the data, the AO will use IMPACT data cleaning logbook in excel. In case it is identified a repetition on mistakes, a second training or debrief with enumerators might be considered.

ReDS assessment is based in a mixed methods tool using both qualitative and quantitative data collection, therefore it will be, first separately, then presented and triangulated according to theme. Taking into consideration REACH expertise in Iraq, it was possible to incorporate relevant options for most of the close-ended questions in the tool which facilitates data collection and data analysis. The quantitative information will be cleaned using the Data Cleaning Log guided by IMPACT Minimum Standards Checklist for Data Cleaning and Processing for Structured \(Quantitative\). The analysis of quantitative information will be carried out using excel or R script by identifying themes, commonalities and differences in KI answers guided by the data analysis plan (see Section 6), which will feed directly in to the production of a factsheet and graphs for each assessed location divided into different themes. For the analysis, thematic coding will be used to draw themes from the data and make it comparable. The identified themes are: recent and expected movements, community primary needs and access to humanitarian aid, access to housing and housing rehabilitation, access to basic public services, access to livelihoods, governance and safety and security, community inter-relations, and land contamination.

For other open-ended questions (for which identification of options was not possible - e.g. What positive and/or negative effects do you think recent returns have had within the community?) and the 'other' answers, qualitative data generated will be synthesized and organized using the Data Saturation and Analysis Grid in line with IMPACT Minimum Standards Checklist for Semi-Structured \(Qualitative\) Data Processing and Analysis. The data saturation grid will directly feed into the write up of the narrative component for each assessed area. For its analysis, emphasis will be given to the themes that were raised the most frequently or where there were notable variations in the different KI profiles' answers (including particularly displacement status). Quotes will be used where relevant to reinforce the quantification of findings with qualitative experiences and perceptions. The findings yielded by the assessment will not be generalizable to the area of interest and therefore will be treated as indicative only. The data generated from the ReDS assessment will be triangulated with secondary sources (see Section 3.3).

Annex 1: Prioritization of areas of concern for the assessment

The below table was created to prioritize the areas of concern for the research. A scoring system was used to prioritize each tracked area, mainly at district and sub-district levels using binary system by getting a score of 1 if the criteria were met. The different criteria were defined using different sources, criteria 1: IOM DTM Return Index; criteria 2: IOM DTM Return Index Dataset and REACH April 2021 Intentions Survey Dataset; and, criteria 3: report from actors during RWG monthly meetings. For districts, the total scoring is the sum of all presented columns; and for sub-district it is the sum of the columns highlighted for sub-districts. The priority areas were those with the highest sub-district score of 3. In the way to start the data collection, between the 4 highest scored areas, REACH will prioritize those which access can be immediately ensured due to current presence of authorization from local authorities for the intervention, in parallel a request of authorization will be presented to the rest of the areas.

Table 5: Scoring system and selection criteria of areas of concern for the assessment
