¹ Despite using non-representative sampling methods as a result of COVID-19, to ensure comparability with previous camp profiling rounds, a similarly sized sample will be drawn. This ensures a wide range of voices and perspectives are captured. Subsequently, the total number of interviews is calculated based on a total of 40 camps being assessed, with a range of 40-70 interviews per camp according to their population density. This range was set to "simulate" a random sampling with 90/10 confidence level, similar to previous rounds.

2. Rationale

2.1. Rationale

Between late 2013 and 2017, intensification of conflict in north and central Iraq has resulted in large scale displacement. Following the de-escalation of active military operations against ISIL, Iraq has witnessed an increase in numbers of IDPs returning to their Area of Origin (AoO). Although many have since already returned, 1.39 million people remain internally displaced.¹ This includes 278,000 individuals (55,000 families) that reside in 43 formal IDP camps, or composite camp areas.² Nationally, the round VI of REACH-CCCM Intentions Assessment in February-March 2020 found that only 2% of IDPs intended to return over the twelve months following data collection.³ Considering the rapidly-changing context of the crisis with the closure and consolidation of camps as well as new displacements and waves of returns, up-to-date information about the needs of IDPs and available infrastructure and services in camps is necessary in order to address these needs as well as plan the camp strategy for the coming months. The conditions in camps differ greatly from one camp to another as well as between governorates, thus regular monitoring of conditions is essential to strategise appropriately the consolidation of some camps and closure of others in the coming year.

While the humanitarian situation in Iraq has been gradually improving over the past two years, the transitional process has been defined by persisting political instabilities, resurgences of localised conflicts and regional insecurities that are not directly related to the protracted displacement crisis. The large scale protests that broke out in Central Southern cities in late 2019, the Turkish military offensive in Northeast Syria, the heightened tensions between the United States and Iran and an increase in attacks of non-state armed groups on civilian and military targets have led to a substantial worsening of the political and security situation in Iraq and have added another layer of complexity to the humanitarian response.

Finally, the outbreak of COVID-19 in Iraq represents a serious emerging public health crisis that could aggravate the humanitarian situation and exacerbate existing vulnerabilities in health, education, protection, livelihoods and other areas of well-being.⁴ The first case of COVID-19 in Iraq was recorded in February 2020 and as of June 26, the World Health Organisation had recorded 41,193 confirmed and 20,775 active cases as well as 1,559 deaths related to COVID-19.⁵ While the Iraqi government was able to largely contain the spread of the virus in the early stages, government-imposed lockdowns and movement restrictions have inhibited access of millions of Iraqis to livelihood opportunities, education and essential health services. Ongoing access constraints as well as an increase in security incidents have further restricted the provision of humanitarian aid to populations in need. In-camp IDPs are considered to face heightened and unique threats from COVID-19 which are attributable to pre-existing vulnerabilities related to their displacement status, poor infrastructure in their areas of inhabitation and generally limited access to basic services. In light of mobility restrictions and school closures, there are also ongoing protection concerns related to GBV as well as social and psychological distress amongst children.⁶

Camp Profiles:

To inform a more effective humanitarian response for IDPs living in formal camps, the Iraq CCCM cluster and REACH conduct bi-annual IDP Camp Profiling assessments. Information from this profile will be used to monitor camp conditions and highlight priority needs and service gaps faced by households in all accessible IDP camps across Iraq, as well as multi- sectoral differences across camps, in order to address needs, and to inform prioritisation of camps for consolidation or closure where necessary. Furthermore, the data collected by the Camp Profiling will provide a comprehensive evidence base for programming and for future monitoring exercises inside camps. In addition, the data collected by the Camp Profiling will inform future planning by the CCCM cluster, as the primary harmonised mechanism for assessing IDP camps across Iraq.

Intentions:

The different settings in which IDPs reside can have a considerable impact on their stability in their area of displacement and the specific threats and vulnerabilities that they may face, which may in turn affect intentions to move, with regard to decisions to return or remain, and reasons for doing so. Consequently, it is important to understand and assess the movement intentions of IDP population groups.

3. Methodology

3.1. Methodology overview

Due to the serious health risk that the spread of COVID-19 poses to enumerators and respondents, as well as the movement restrictions related to the government-imposed COVID-19 containment measures, this round of Camp Profiling and Intentions Survey cannot be implemented through a full nationwide statistically representative household survey, as typically undertaken in previous rounds. The Camp Profiling and Intentions Survey data will be collected using a mixed methods approach. The quantitative element consists of a phone-based household surveys, and results will be indicative, with a non-probability purposive sampling method used. For the qualitative components, Key Informants (KI) interviews (semi-structured surveys), satellite imagery and secondary data sources will be used. For the HH survey, the camps where REACH had contact information of IDP households, REACH will establish a contact list and collect surveys until the target is met. In the case of IDP camps where REACH had no IDP households contact information, REACH will ask the CCCM Cluster to provide a beneficiary contact list. In case the lists provided by CCCM Cluster do not meet our surveys target, REACH enumerators will use snowballing to reach our quota.

The KI interviews and mapping will be conducted with Camp Managers or Deputy Camp Managers, whose contact will be provided by CCCM Cluster. Data collection for this round of Camp Profiling and Intentions Survey is scheduled to begin on 16 August 2020 and will last until 10 September 2020, and the total number surveys collected through this round of Camp Profiling and Intentions Survey has a target of 2,511 IDP HH surveys, 40 KI interviews, and 40 KI interviews for the mapping.

Data collection will be conducted in 40 IDP camps which have at least 100 households in:

Anbar, Baghdad, Dahuk, Diyala, Erbil, Kerbala, Kirkuk, Ninewa, Salah al-Din and Sulaymaniyah governorates.

- Household-level surveys: purposive sampling, between 40 and 70 household surveys per camp.
- Camp manager Key Informant (KI) interview: 40 KI interviews with camp manager(s) to complement information gathered from the household survey.
- Mapping: 40 KI interviews with camp manager(s) for the mapping of key infrastructure such as roads, facilities, shelters, offices and other structures, to be used for satellite imagery analysis.

Data cleaning will be conducted on a daily basis during data collection. Data that is deemed inconsistent will be highlighted and shared with the field team for clarification or rectification. Once data collection is complete, profiles will be created primarily using the information from the household surveys and camp manager KI interviews. Satellite imagery analysis will be conducted using images taken as close to the date of primary data collection as possible. Data will be cleaned and analysed using R (HH survey) and excel (KIIs).

3.2. Population of interest

Geographical area: all accessible camps of Iraq with less than a hundred households in the following governorates: Anbar, Baghdad, Dahuk, Diyala, Erbil, Kerbala, Kirkuk, Ninewa, Salah al-Din and Sulaymaniyah. Some camps in insecure locations are not accessible due to security reasons.

Population: IDP households residing in camps (household surveys) and camp managers (KI interview).

3.3. Secondary data review

Secondary data sources to be reviewed include:

- Camp profiling Rounds I to XIII will be used for the longitudinal analysis conducted for the comparative summary. Available here.
Findings from earlier rounds in every sector (WASH, Shelter, non-food items (NFI), Food security, Education, Intentions) will be compared to all the findings of round XIV in order to draw out trends in the evolution of needs of displaced person in camps.
- Intentions surveys Rounds I to VI. Available here.
- Previous comparative reports.
- CCCM FSMT (Formal Site Monitoring Tool). Available here.
- Other relevant assessments in any sector conducted in the IDP camps assessed within the same time frame.
- Geo-spatial data (e.g. UNOSAT satellite imagery).

3.4. Primary Data Collection

Data collection is conducted by REACH enumerators, under the supervision of a REACH Field Coordinator or Assessment Officer. Data collection had to be adapted to the current COVID-19 context. Considering the vulnerability of in-camp IDPs and the relatively high population density of IDP camps, the risk of the COVID-19 spreading through in-person data collection is high¹. For these reason data will be collected remotely through phone interviews:

Method: Enumerators hired by REACH will conduct household-level quantitative surveys (Annex 2 and 3) and KI interviews of Camp Managers in IDP camps (Annex 4). Surveys will be conducted remotely in our call centres established in REACH offices. Enumerators are provided with a mobile phone, with the Kobo software downloaded, to enter information into the relevant kobo survey. The field officers will share participant contact information with enumerators each day to prevent enumerators calling the same participants. Enumerators will call the participant up to 3 times, then if there is no reply will request another number to call from the field officers.

REACH will establish contact lists in camps where REACH has contact information of IDP households. In the case of IDP camps where REACH does not have contact information, REACH will ask for assistance from the CCCM Cluster to provide contact lists. In the cases where the lists do not meet our surveys target a snowball sampling methodology will be implemented until the survey quota is reached.

For the household quantitative surveys, the persons interviewed will have to be adult (18 years old or above). If possible, the head of the households will be interviewed, if not possible any adult can represent the head of the household.

Sampling: IDPs residing in formal camps managed by CCCM Cluster in all accessible areas in Iraq: purposive sampling. The purposive sampling method can only provide indicative findings, although the surveys target aims to provide enough surveys to keep consistency with previous rounds. The full list of camps assessed and the sample size for each is available in the Annex 1.

- As a primary method, a purposive sample of households will be drawn at the camp level, based on the number of household surveys needed to keep the sample size consistent with the representative sample from previous rounds.

FINAL - Camp Profiling and Intentions Survey, July 2020

For the purposive sampling REACH will use IDP households contact information from previous assessments. Of the camps where a contact list is not available, REACH will utilise a beneficiary contact list provided by CCCM Cluster. If the number of IDP households in the contact lists is smaller than our sampling target, REACH enumerators will take a snowballing approach to complete the sampling.

Method and sampling for camp mapping: At the end of the KI interview, camp managers or duty camp managers will be asked about the best method that is available to them to conduct the camp mapping. Upon determining this method, the GIS officer will email a PDF of the relevant camp map, as well as the related interview questions, to the KI (Annex 5). If technical conditions allow it, the mapping process will then involve the GIS officer interviewing and sharing their screen showing the PDF of the relevant camp map, with the KI through videoconference (Skype, Zoom or any other similar platform). This videoconferencing and screen sharing will allow the GIS officer to display the relevant camp map, and discuss the related interview questions with the KI. If this videoconferencing is unavailable to the KI, the email will be followed by a phone call to corroborate information and fill the gaps. Previous camp maps (Camp Profiling Rounds XII and XIII) and satellite imagery will be used to help the KI to identify and locate the camp infrastructure and boundaries in the map (i.e. a Skype videoconference sharing screen broadcasting the satellite imagery or in a picture attached to the email).

Tool: Two tools will be used: a household-level questionnaire (Annex 2 and 3) and a KI interview with camp managers (Annex 4). The household survey is a multi-sectoral structured questionnaire. It aims to collect information at the household level about their situation in the different sectors (demographic, displacement, protection, livelihood, food security, health, WASH, shelter and NFI, education, and aid received). The questionnaire is based on earlier rounds of camp profiles, incorporating lessons learnt and CCCM Cluster inputs. The questionnaire will be uploaded to the REACH Kobo server.

The KI surveys will be conducted to gather information on camp capacity, services, and mapping and aim to collect information related to the camp population, camp structure, camp management, and camp distribution and mapping of infrastructure. The questionnaire will be uploaded to the REACH Kobo server. In addition to the KI interview, a set of questions have been designed by REACH GIS officers to conduct the camp mapping (Annex 5). These questions will aim to collect information relating to specific camp infrastructure types, specific camp infrastructure locations, and the identification of new camp infrastructure and its purpose.

Any amendments to the tool will be done in consultation with the CCCM Cluster, but with the aim of maintaining consistency between camp profiling rounds to enable longitudinal analysis.

3.5. Data Processing & Analysis

- Enumerators will use ODK to collect remotely the surveys through phone calls and will update them every evening to the REACH Kobo server. Camps will be assigned to each team, and will be collected one or two camps per team at a time until reaching the sampling target or reaching the 80% of the target for each camp. The purpose of this is to keep track of the geolocation of the surveys since for this round there won't be GPS coordinates as previous rounds. Contact list will be sent on a weekly basis to each field coordinators and managers
- Data entry & cleaning: A data cleaning SOP will be generated, built off of the Minimum Standard Data Cleaning Checklist developed by IMPACT HQ, to guide data checking, cleaning, and consolidation processes, as well as indicator-specific parameters. Data cleaning will be carried out by the technical AO on a daily basis. A pre-coded R script will be verified through manual data checks and data cleaning, particularly during the initial days of data collection.
- As much as possible, data will be uploaded on a daily basis by REACH Senior Field Coordinators (SFCs) to be cleaned by the Assessment Officer or Data Officer who will provide feedback to the SDCs. Feedback will be shared on a daily basis via google spreadsheet and email. To quickly coordinate with SFCs, a Skype group will be used for updates on the ODK or possible technical issues which need a quick response.

At the end of data collection there will be two datasets:

Final - Camp Profiling and Intentions Survey, July 2020

1. Camp Profiling and Intentions HH survey: dataset with all the surveys of the camp profiling, including the intentions indicators if the intentions survey has been conducted at the same time, which is the case in round XIV for Camp profiling and round VII for the Intentions survey. This dataset will be used to run the analysis for the purpose of the camp profiling outputs (profiles, directory).
2. Camp Profiling KI dataset: dataset with all the KI forms from each camp manager. The KI dataset will be used to inform the camp directory, descriptive findings will be extracted from the data to inform our outputs.
 - Once data for all the camps has been completed, the Assessment Officer in charge will conduct analysis through, R and excel and amalgamate all the data into one database. There will be one dataset with all the household surveys and one dataset with all the KIs with camp managers. Anonymised version of the raw data, clean data, cleaning log and deleted logs will be sent to the HQ data unit for final review and validation.
 - Data collected will also support comparative summary writing, where data will be weighted by population size to allow aggregation of findings above the level of stratification. This will allow reporting of findings at the national or governorate level. SPSS or R will be used in order to run custom tables and excel will be used for any demographic questions which require to compare the number of people in a certain category to the total amount of people in the camp (demographics, vulnerable populations, children by gender and age for school attendance), as well as data from KI interviews.
 - The results will be compared to the ones of the previous rounds of camp profiling in order to identify trends in the evolution of needs with time. However, for this round, trends should be considered indicative or probably biased.
 - Due to the new methodology where interviews are conducted remotely, the answer to some questions could change, negatively affecting the quality of the survey. This limitation will be acknowledged in the published outputs.

For more details on the data analysis process, see the Data Analysis Plan in Annex 1 and 2.

ANNEX 5: CAMP MAPPING: SAMPLE EMAIL

Dear [name of the camp manager],

I work for REACH Initiative and we are conducting a Camp Profiling assessment. Recently, we interviewed you and asked you if you were willing to participate in the camp mapping of [name of the camp]. We would need you to respond to the following questions and assist us by drawing the main infrastructure, and whether there had been any changes to this, on the map that is attached to this email.

[Sample list of questions]

General questions:

1. Are there any new infrastructures/offices in the camp? If yes, where are they? What type are they? What is the name of the NGO that is managing that infrastructure/offices?
2. Is the potable water source within the camp or outside? If Within, what are the sources and where are their locations? (sources of water are such as; groundwater/ borehole, surface water through water treatment plant, etc.)

Any water treatment plants in the camp? Where are they located?

Camp specific questions:

3. Are there any private kitchens inside the shelters (tents, caravans)? If no, are there any communal/shared kitchens and where? Can you show us their location on the block layout?
4. What is the Water Truck Filling Station? Is it different from a borehole?

You can respond to this email if you have any questions. Once you have completed the questions and drawn the locations on the map, please send this back to us. We would then like to have a phone call with you to confirm any information that might be unclear.

Thank you very much for your assistance.

Best regards,
